

CONTENTS

Introduction

Image of the landowner's estate of the late XIX — first third of the XX century	16
--	----

Part I

Interdisciplinary vectors in the study of “estate-dacha topos”

Chapter 1

Cultural space and literary space: between geography, literary criticism and art history	26
---	----

Chapter 2

“Estate” and “dacha” models of rural life. Landlord and peasant estates in the works of representatives of the “peasant concord” group	40
--	----

Chapter 3

A place of interest and the visualization of literary images	63
---	----

Part II

Intermediate aspects in poetic interpretations of the “estate topos”

Chapter 1

Literary estate and real estate in the works by N.A. Klyuev	80
---	----

Chapter 2

“All is here familiar and near”: A view from the window in the works by S.A. Esenin	91
--	----

Chapter 3

The “estate” contexts and variability of the “Russian world” in the works by S.A. Esenin	115
---	-----

Part III

Variations of the “estate-dacha topos” in the prose

by I.S. Shmelev and B.K. Zaitsev

Chapter 1

The death of the estate world in the story “The Wall”

by I.S. Shmelev 152

Chapter 2

Evolution of the “estate-dacha topos” in the works

by I.S. Shmelev of the emigration period 165

Chapter 3

The ideal of the estate in the life and work of B.K. Zaitsev 174

Chapter 4

Estate and dacha contexts in the stories “The Blue Star”
and “Anna” and in the novel “The Golden Pattern”

by B.K. Zaitsev 200

Applications

Appendix 1

Mission of the literary Museum and the estate Museum 212

Appendix 2

Historical and cultural space and formation of the territory’s image 222

Conclusion 238

List of illustrations 244

References 248

Index of names. Comp. by E.N. Schensnovich 268